July Independence

In the United States we celebrate our national independence on July fourth. And at ZYGO we think about the importance of personal independence all year long.

In this issue we highlight our text-to-speech products for you.

If you haven't seen us lately, you may not know about our line of text-to-speech systems. Here's a quick glance at what we have to offer.

Product Highlights

Optimist 3

Dynamic display built with XP power, this lightweight communication device is worthy of a close look.

ZYGO's Optimist 3 comes complete with software of your choosing. Try SDP with Boardmaker or the Grid with PCS symbols for a powerful augmentative and alternative communication (AAC) aid that is ideal for users who need speed. Carrying this three pound device by its convertible handle stand is easy. The unit's swift processing speed makes message selection fast. Supplied with USB keyboard and mouse.

Polyana 4 with Persona

Our latest model text to speech device brings the best of Persona to a new platform.

Polyana is light weight, small sized, and easy to carry. The attached amplified speaker base-pack provides exceptionally loud, clear output.

Persona is the text-based communication program purposely designed for literate users who need to talk. Access by the keyboard, the touch screen, or switches through the on-screen keyboard. Messages are clearly spoken by DECTalk speech synthesis.

Request a free Persona demo CD by phone or by using our web site literature request.

Allora

Allora is an easy to use keyboard based text-to-speech communication aid. Any message written on the display is spoken clearly and comprehensibly in a high quality, natural sounding male or female RealSpeak voice.

Features powerful word prediction, pre-stored messages, nice feeling keyboard, and an optional infra-red remote control module as an aid to daily living.

Use sound files to attract attention or add spice to a conversation.

LightWRITER

Don't forget the LightWRITER line from Toby Churchill, Ltd. You can still purchase this text-to-speech classic straight from ZYGO Industries just like you have for all these years.

Spok21

See what has happened to dual-display Speech Generating Devices.

Spok21 has large, multi-line displays and function keys for rapid access to phrases -- even to make setups easier. Type on the combination keyboard or switch to scanning as needed.

Listening to Spok21's natural sounding speech is a pleasure -- toggle between any two on-board languages.

The rechargeable batteries are easily replaceable locally and the rugged, contemporary case won't break on the first bump.

Think modern. Think Spok21.
